Medical Insurance

- ✓ Upon arrival, each applicant is issued an annual policy. Medical insurance (DMS). The cost of the policy for 2023 - 2024 academic year is 5000 rubles.

- ✓ PAY ATTENTION! This type of medical policy has not only a minimum cost, but also a minimum range of services. Includes treatment of acute and emergency cases and emergency medical care, as well as inpatient treatment in public hospitals (hospital, hospital). Treatment of chronic diseases is not included in the range of policy services.

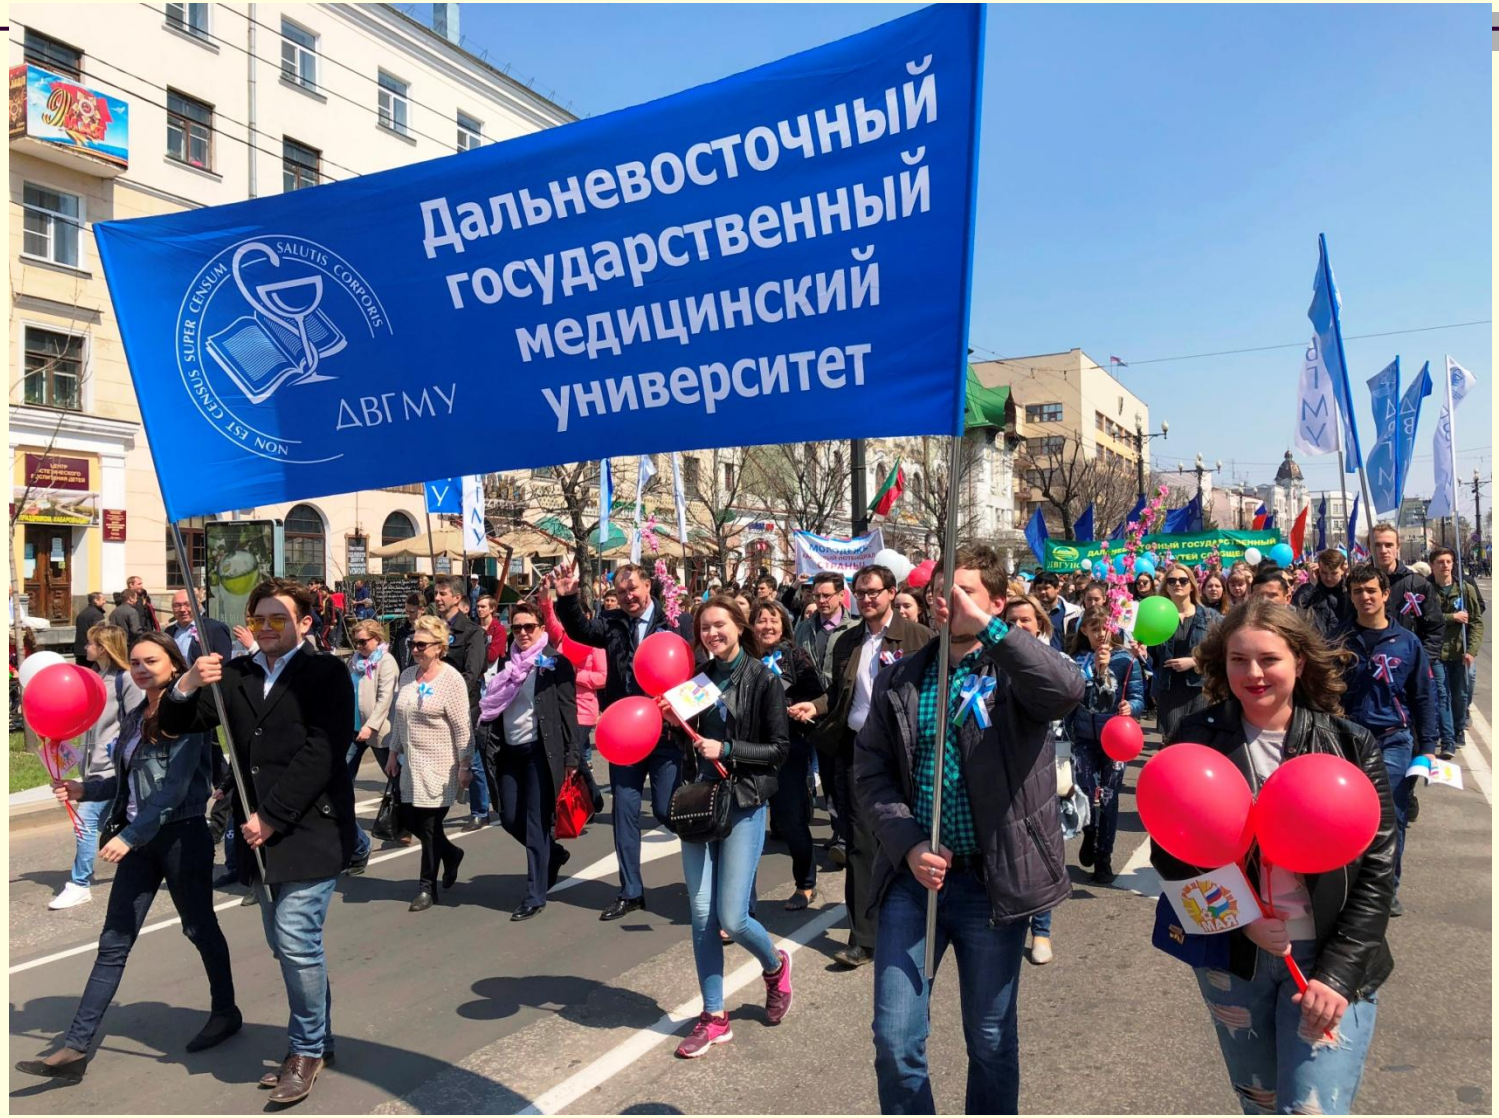
- ✓ If the applicant has any chronic diseases, it is necessary to take care of prophylactic treatment and availability of medicines, which are recommended by the doctor you take during the exacerbation.

Few Tips

- ✓ Remember that in Khabarovsk it is cold in winter, so you need to take warm clothes and shoes with the frosty winter, cold autumn and cool spring.
- ✓ Hostel and educational buildings are in walking distance, but rainy autumn weather can damage the shoes, so it is better to capture a replacement pair of autumn-spring shoes.
- ✓ Students with any chronic illness must take the medication they normally take on medical advice.
- ✓ Remember that at lectures and practical classes the student must come in medical form - white medical robe or surgical suit. To save time and money, we recommend you bring with you 2 ordinary white medical robes and 1 surgical suit, as well as 2 medical caps.
- ✓ The university's libraries and reading rooms are equipped with computers, there are also computer rooms with Internet access at the university. But still, to make studying at a medical university at least a little easier, and at the same time more effective, we advise you to take a personal computer (laptop).

- For food students spend an average of 15,000 rubles per month. Meals will be cheaper, more useful and better if the student will cook for himself. In the hostel there are domestic rooms that are equipped with the necessary household appliances, including gas or electric stoves. So our advice is to teach the child to cook the simplest food.

- Our students take an active part in the university life - student KVNs, competitions and festivals, so we advise you to grab national clothes and musical instruments that can be transported.


We look forward to seeing you at our university!
